Annual fee - this is a service charge (% based) applicable to each class of a fund, that is levied on the value of your portfolio and includes the fund management fee and administration fee. The fee also includes other charges such as audit, custody and index provider fees that are normally additional permissible deductions. Annual fees are calculated and accrued daily and recovered monthly from the income awaiting distribution in the fund.

This portfolio is an exchange traded fund (ETF). The charges detailed above relate to the portfolio, they do not include the fees for trading on an exchange. Based on period from:	01/07/2020
Total Expense	0.27%
Transaction Costs	0.00%
Total Investment Charge	0.27%
1 Year Total Expense	0.27%

Total Expense (TER): This ratio shows the charges, levies and fees relating to the management of the portfolio and is expressed as a percentage of the average net asset value of the portfolio, calculated over the period shown and annualised to the most recently completed quarter. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER should not be regarded as an indication of future TERs.

Transaction Costs (TC): This ratio shows the percentage of the value of the fund incurred as costs relating to the buying and selling of the fund's underlying assets. TC are a necessary cost in administering the fund and impacts fund returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of fund, investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER.

Total Investment Charges (TIC): This ratio is simply the sum of the TER and TC, showing the percentage of the value of the fund incurred as costs relating to the investment of the fund. It should be noted that performance figures account for all costs included in the TIC ratio, so you should not deduct the TIC from performance figures, the performance is already net of the TIC.

Commentary

Fund review

The fund provides diversified exposure to 500 large capitalisation companies from the US. The top five equity holdings are Apple Inc (7%), Microsoft Corp (7%), Amazon Com Inc (3%), NVIDIA Corp (3%) and Alphabet Inc (2%). The top five sectors were Information Technology (27%), Health Care (13%), Financials (13%), Consumer discretionary (11%) and Communications (9%). The fund's weighted average dollar dividend yield is 1.68% as at Q3 2023.

Market overview

For most of the year, global central banks have maintained restrictive monetary policy and interest rates have reached unsustainable levels. This has pushed equity markets lower. In Q3, the MSCI World Index declined by -3.8%, the MSCI EMEA by -2.7% and the MSCI EM by -3.7%. In the US, the Federal Reserve increased rates by a quarter-point in July, adjusting the short-term benchmark that impacts yields on various securities, including the 10-year Treasury. However, in the September meeting, the Fed decided to maintain its benchmark interest rate at a range of 5.25% to 5.5%, indicating that there could still be more rate hikes in 2023. The US economy was also projected to grow at a 5.8% annualised rate in the third quarter, as per the Atlanta Federal Reserve's GDPNow forecast model. Locally, the MPC decided to maintain the repo rate at 8.25% at the September meeting, showing a cautious stance amidst the current economic challenges. Load shedding in SA was a feature for most of Q3, sometimes spiking to stage 6. Rising oil prices resulted in consecutive fuel price hikes, adding to the pressure on inflation. High interest rates were negative for domestic equity markets but benefited the fixed income markets. In Q3, the Top 40 Index dropped by -4.62%, the All-Share Index by -3.48% and the FTSE/JSE Capped SWIX by -3.81%. The All-Bond Index returned 2.06% while the STeFI gained 1.38%.

Looking ahead

Global market expectations have generally shifted from a recession to a soft landing. Although the US FOMC kept interest rates unchanged in its September meeting, suggesting rates have reached a preliminary peak, there is lingering uncertainty about future moves, which will influence economic performance. While a buoyant labour market (with August job openings of 9.6 million beating the consensus estimates of 8.8 million) will support the economy in Q4, and is likely to push inflation higher, fiscal instability remains a key risk after the removal of Republican Kevin MacCarthy as the US Speaker of the House in a vote of no confidence. The US debt-ceiling is another risk, as the 45-day funding bill represents only a short-term fix, as the government still faces a shutdown if Congress fails to extend funding by 17 November 2023. Locally, the interest rate hiking cycle seems also to have also reached a preliminary peak, but inflation remains a concern. At 4.8%, inflation remains within the SARB's 3%-6% target range. The SARB has kept the repo rate unchanged at 8.25%, noting that whether inflation remains within the target band will be the most important factor on the timing of a shift towards less restrictive monetary policy. Rising fuel prices further represent a risk to domestic inflation, with October's hikes at R1.08 and R1.14 per litre for 93 and 95 unleaded petrol, respectively. This is mainly due to the strengthening of global oil prices, as Brent crude breached the $90/barrel mark for the first time in almost a year. Towards the end of Q3, Eskom implemented lower levels of load shedding after the reopening of unit 3 of Kusile Power Station two months ahead of schedule. If lower levels of load shedding are maintained, it will support business activity and improve business sentiment. The outbreak of bird flu at an unprecedented level presents a major risk for producers of poultry and complementary products, with a number of major retailers being affected.
